Notes from the Editor

Looking through the diary, now is definitely the time for annual meetings - get the business out of the way before the festivities start!

Would any of our younger parishoners like to draw a cover for the Echo, whether for Christmas or any other time of year?

We had a lovely time at the Harvest BBQ - delicious food and good company. Thanks to all involved.

Congratulations to the Shop and Café on winning a special award - details inside. Congratulations also go to Celia Cracknell whose family have raised a huge amount for the East Anglian Air Ambulance. I've been picking the brains of my friend from Earl Soham whose village fete always raises a tremendous amount of money - she tells me we need lots of have-a-go stalls to keep people amused and lots of things to sell. That means lots of volunteers, so do let us know if you can give us a hand next year.

Best wishes, Tish

As always we would welcome donations of gifts, raffle prizes, cakes, tombola prizes and anything that we can sell.

We also welcome offers of help on the morning.

The Maypole Club

We warmly welcome all residents and visitors to our meetings. We meet every second Wednesday in the month at 8pm, usually at Badingham Village Hall.

Next month's Maypole is on the 12th of October and it will be the party we hold every year. This year we are all going to bring a plus one. We all bring along a dish of food to share and a drink. Hopefully there will be a good mixture of music to dance to.

The following month, on 9th November, is our AGM.

New members are always welcome. If you are not sure Maypole is for you, just come along and give us a try, free of charge for the first one. Phone Debbie 638325

Celia's Garden Fete

A massive Thankyou to all who attended my garden fete in aid of the East Anglian Air Ambulance. It was a super day, with lots of familiar faces and some not so. Everyone had a great time.

We even had a visit from a Mustang, which did a fabulous display. Because of all your generosity, an absolutely huge amount of £1,807 was raised; this is fantastic.

Unfortunately, it would appear I misunderstood our manager at Barclays and did not get my application for sponsorship in soon enough to qualify for match funding. I have, however, put in for sponsorship for my next event and as it is at the end of September, I have high hopes for our success. I am sorry if I misled anyone, it was certainly not intended. Once again, thank you we now have a total for the year so far of £7,666.56. Celia

VILLAGE NOTICEBOARD

Ever wanted to ring handbells?

Badingham church has preserved two sets of the most beautiful handbells for the last thirty years. Once played regularly, they haven't been used for a long time and we'd now like to bring them back to life by getting a group of people together to have fun learning to play with the aim of performing as part of the village Christmas celebrations.

No experience is necessary and you don't have to be able to read music; young, older, middle aged.....all welcome! If you are interested in being involved please contact Martin on 638061.

I have been contacted by two Low Street residents about dog mess on the pavement:

" There has, in the last few months been an increase in dog mess on the pavement between the village hall and the pub. I walk along there several times a day and risk myself, my dog or my daughter's buggy going through it. I am sure others have noticed.

Badingham is such a lovely village and I would hate to see people stop taking care of it."

" I know you have put articles in the magazine before about dogs poo in the village. Whoever it is may have changed their walking route as it is now appearing along Low Street.

It appears to be a small to medium dog or dogs. It is getting annoying. We always take bags, bag it and bring it home. Why don't others?

I am getting annoyed and thinking of putting a camera up to point in that direction. With the purpose of reporting the owners for fouling the footpath. I thought it only fair to warn of my intentions."

Could anyone tell me if the mobile library still visits? It was alternate Tuesday mornings but there is no mention of a Badingham stop on the website now - just Bruisyard, Dennington, Laxfield and Peasehall - still Tuesdays.

Congratulations!

BREAKING NEWS: Our Badingham Shop and Café won the SCDC Chairman's award on Thursday 15 September.

Susan Harvey had visited every village in the area and had been so impressed with our shop and café and in particular all the volunteers who have and continue to make it happen that she chose us! A fantastic accolade! Karen & Tanya

Cllr Harvey, Chairman of SCDC 2015-16 explains why she chose Badingham Shop and Café as winners of the Chairman's Award at the Suffolk Coastal Business and Community Awards: "It is an amazing project which has involved the whole community and the local Church - and the result is delightful.

The shop is quickly becoming a hub in the village, selling local produce and showcasing local craftspeople. It's a real meeting place for locals and visiting cyclists and walkers."

Summer Holidays are almost over – I hope you have all enjoyed yourselves. As I write, children are about to go back to school and students are off to college and universities. Some are still here for a few more years of learning and apprenticeships – we wish them all good luck. Maybe the grandparents can have a rest and go for a holiday now!

ROGUE TRADERS

Reports have seen a man with a white van selling cheap new mattresses in Gorleston, Norfolk.

In Suffolk we have had reports of door to door fish sellers and a gentleman going door to door insisting it is a legal requirement to have funeral plans.

Please be aware they are in the area and DO NOT BUY from them. Please report to Suffolk Trading Standards on 03454 040506 giving key information: their name, appearance and vehicle registration or call the Police 101.

FAKE IRISH BANK NOTES

Norfolk Police received two reports on 31.08.16 of fake Irish £20 notes being handed over at stores across the county. Retailers are being urged to be vigilant and to take crime prevention measures, such as using a UV light or a testing pen which will indicate whether a note is genuine.

CAR THEFT - DENNINGTON 10.08.16

Black Ford Focus EJ10 ERV. Police are appealing for witnesses after a car was stolen from the square sometime between 7pm and 8am. Contact Suffolk Police on 101 quoting ref 37/49276/16.

BREAK-IN – PEASENHALL 14.08.16

A tack room on a farm was broken into. The secured building was forcibly entered; a tidy search was made, however nothing was stolen. Neighbours reported that their dogs were disturbed and security lights were activated during the night; CCTV shows three males walking down the road at 3.10am. Crime ref: 50082/16.

HALLOWEEN AND BONFIRE NIGHT

On this special night when we go trick or treating, please would parents look after their children and DO NOT knock on strangers' doors. If you are visiting friends, let them know you are coming... please respect the older generation.

DOG OWNERS

Please will dog owners think of others and ensure that dogs are not left to bark continuously. This is a great nuisance for neighbours and can be classed as anti-social behaviour.

Turn the page for Crime Scene Preservation advice.

Sonja

CRIME SCENE PRESERVATION

The key in all circumstances, whether a theft from your vehicle or burglary at your home, is to remain calm and try not to panic (easier said than done). Contact the police in the first instance (101). You will be given preservation advice by the control room.

1. DO NOT TOUCH ANYTHING

It may be tempting to tidy up or have a look around and see what has been taken, please await the arrival of the Crime Scene Investigation team.

Try to avoid the areas which have been entered by the offender, to avoid damaging possible forensic evidence. There are potentially fingerprints on doors, windows, drawers, cupboards or anything that has been moved by the offender.

2. HARD STANDING FLOORS

Footwear marks can be a key piece of forensic evidence. They can be compared against shoes belonging to a suspect; a unique wear pattern can link a suspect to the crime. See Page 11, August/Sept 2016 Echo.

Whilst they may not be visible to the naked eye, footwear marks can be recovered from hard standing flooring, such as tiles or laminate floors - enhanced by the use of powdering techniques.

Avoid walking across hard floors where ever possible. If unavoidable, place newspaper across the floor and keep the area walked across to a minimum.

If the footwear mark is wet let it dry before placing down newspaper.

Harvest Festival and Harvest BBQ

Our Harvest Festival service was very enjoyable and the church looked beautiful. Thank you to all those who helped to clean and decorate. The harvest produce was taken to the Salvation Army in Woodbridge.

The Harvest BBQ was again a very happy occasion and lots of fun. Although there was no rain the strong wind meant we took tables and chairs into the church for us to eat our lunch, this by no means spoilt the meal and we all enjoyed a delicious lunch with good company.

Once again thank you to everyone who helped, to those who cooked and for all the lovely puddings. Ann

FRAMLINGHAM ART SOCIETY

2016 EXHIBITION, JULY 28TH - 31ST JULY

Once again the Preview Evening at St Michael's Rooms was packed, a wonderful turn out for the Opening Night and Presentation of Trophies that were awarded to winners in their different mediums .

The winners were:

- Y Kathy Cook: Watercolour - The Jack Welbourne Cup
- Y Paula Cable: Mixed Media - 007 Shield
- Y Margaret Owen: Pure Medium - The Glass Trophy

We sold a number of paintings on the evening and nearly 25 during the whole exhibition. 498 people visited. The highest priced painting sold for £400 – we've never sold at such a good price before. The members should be congratulated for their works of art - well done all.

The Society would like to thank everyone for their support over the weekend. The St Johns Ambulance Framlingham charity bottle raised £70. After an outstanding exhibition we now look forward to 2017.

FADS

After all the hard work and intensity of our spring production (The Birthday Party), the current rehearsals are somewhat different. This time round we are helpless with laughter a lot of the time and things are going with a real swing.

We are looking forward to the reaction of our audiences when they come to see MURDERED TO DEATH, an Agatha Christie spoof, set in a country manor house in the 1930s with a wonderful cast of likely 'whodunnit' characters including an older lady called Miss Maple!

MURDERED TO DEATH, by Peter Gordon, will be presented at the Headmaster Porter Theatre, Framlingham College, Wednesday 2nd to Saturday 5th November, at 7.30pm each evening.

Tickets priced £8 (£7 concessions) will be available from Monday 10th October online at www.fadsweb.co.uk or from Framlingham Stationers or by phone 01728 663486. As usual, the ticket price includes a cuppa and a biscuit in the interval - wine and ice creams will be available.

BADINGHAM NATURE DIARY

Paul Collins shares his noteworthy nature sightings

Unless otherwise noted, all were seen at Pollards, Bowling Green Road:

11 July	Marsh harrier	Flying towards Peasenhall boundary
12 July	Heron	Flying east
14 July	Hummingbird hawk moth
17 July	Spiny retharrow	Hollow Lane roadside nature reserve
19 July	Brown hawk dragonfly	Not uncommon, just don't remember seeing one last year
26 July	Alder moth (larva)	Black caterpillar with broad yellow bars on back
4 August	Pepper saxifrage	A1120 by Rectory cross-roads
24 August	Hobby	'Stoop' from behind house to catch swallows/martins on front roof
30 August	? Blackcap	All white, with just a hint of slightly darker cap; right size and shape

Thanks to Paul for sharing his sightings. The heron has been a frequent visitor here at Brick Kiln this Summer. Twice one has flown up from a pond at very close quarters. One landed in just the same spot as I saw three herons standing on the stubble at the same time last year. That was an unusual sight. On the same field I saw buzzards following the combine but I haven't heard their tell-tale shrieks as often lately - have you? Perhaps they have moved on for richer pickings. The barn owl is still about - because I can hear it now, as I'm typing!

HISTORIC FINDS

I expect most people know that for centuries Norfolk was an economic hub for the rest of the country. In addition, the region's farming history meant it was far wealthier than other places. This is the reason Norfolk is the treasure capital of Britain.

If the artefacts are deemed to be of historical interest, they are included on the Government's Portable Antiquities Register, a giant database of millions of items. From government figures, 2014 was a bumper year for treasure finds in Britain with 1,008 precious items discovered around the country. Norfolk topped the list with 226 items uncovered and the county has become a huge draw for metal detector treasure hunters. So famed, even tourists are coming from Canada and America to hunt for OUR treasure.

Over the past year metal detectors have uncovered more than 15,000 historical items from Neolithic axe heads to C19 thimbles, a tomb of a Saxon warrior to ancient coins.

The biggest find in Norfolk is the Snettisham Hoard, the richest collection of Iron Age treasure ever to be found in Britain. Found in 1990 by a man searching with his metal detector, the hoard was valued at £26m. The man accepted an undisclosed reward for the find and it was taken to the British Museum.

You don't have to find a large haul to earn cash, tiny coins can be valuable (even around Badingham parish). An Anglo Saxon pendant found in 2015 in a south Norfolk field, is estimated to be worth tens and thousands of pounds. Also found were 30 Roman coins, each worth £200.

During the 80s and 90s, we had two men living in our village who found all sorts of coins of C14-C18, fossils 60,000,000 years old and so on. One lady recently found in her garden silver sugar tongs, very delicate and small.

The Coenwuff Penny is being looked for, named after an ancient ruler of East Anglia during whose reign they were minted. One such coin, discovered on a Bedfordshire river bank sold for £357,000 in 2006. Experts believe many more items are lying in East Anglian soil.

ÿ You must get the landowner's permission before you search

ÿ Items found deemed as treasure must be taken to the landowner

Anything found on the beach in the area between low and high tide is deemed to belong to the Crown and you must report it to the Crown Estates or face prosecution. The coroner will decide if the item is a treasure or not. It then goes to the valuation board where dealers and archaeologists will put a value on it and offer it for sale to museums etc.

In the past there were no banks and keeping your money in a mud hut was simply an invitation to have it stolen. People would bury their savings in the ground but if they died or were taken prisoner in battle, they were never able to recover their cash. You never know what you might find. I once found an old sixpence dated 1934.

Happy hunting in your fields and gardens, Sonja

Here's more information on the Portable Antiquities Scheme

Portable
Antiquities
Scheme

www.finds.org.uk

There is a legal obligation under the Treasure Act 1996 to report any objects that may qualify as Treasure. This includes all objects over 300 years old of gold and silver, all coin hoards, prehistoric base metal hoards and any associated finds.

A great many objects are found by members of the public which are not 'treasure' but which are nonetheless important in building up knowledge of the archaeology and history of England and Wales. The Portable Antiquities Scheme, run by the British Museum, is a project which records archaeological objects found by the public in order to advance our understanding of the past. Every year thousands of objects are discovered, many of these by metal-detector users, but also by people whilst out walking, gardening or going about their daily work.

More than 815,000 items have been recorded since the scheme launched in 1997, following the passing of the Treasure Act which replaced the medieval law of Treasure Trove.

The Heritage department of Suffolk County Council will record any objects you have found that are older than 1650 AD - metal, pottery, bone or stone. More modern finds can often be identified but will only be recorded if they are of particular archaeological or historical interest.

Contact Dr Anna Booth at SCC Bury St Edmunds on 01284 741241 or visit the Heritage section at www.suffolk.gov.uk

My aunt has passed on her printout of Badingham Historic Environment Records. It includes mention of everything from buckles and rivets to piece of harness, bronze age chisels and roman coins; ancient woodlands at Colston Hall, crop marks of old field enclosures, the extent of Dennington Hall deer park and the Cold War monitoring post which closed in 1968.

100+ pages which I need to digest before including in future issues!

News from Dennington School

Robins Class Topic: Superheros

Children will work as a team to make a spiders web, Batman's cave etc. Based on our superhero topic, children will learn how to write labels and captions to create their very own comic strip. In Music they will learn how to play the Djembe drums and Boom Wackers. Children will develop their ICT computing skills by making a superhero poster and learn about E-Safety.

Wrens Class Topic: Fantastical Worlds

Our Literacy for the first half term will be inspired by Roald Dahl's magical story, The B.F.G. We will also write a newspaper report based on the characters' crazy experiences. We will explore some of the fantastic features that our world has such as volcanoes, geezers and more in our Geography lessons and in Science we will learn about the exciting world of rocks. In the second half term we will endeavour to explore the world of healthy snacks and make our own snack bars. We also plan to bring more French language into our everyday life by using it for instructions, songs and general classroom instructional words.

Swallows Class Topic: WWII Evacuees

In English this term we are getting inspired by the brilliant book 'Goodnight Mr Tom'. This is set in the second world war and has many themes to it such as loneliness, friendship, courage and sadness ; all centred around the life of an evacuee. We will be making an Anderson Shelter for the classroom in Design and Technology, which will involve measuring and evaluating different materials and using equipment. We also hope to do some sewing for 'make do and mend'—using WW2 skills in today's world! We will revisit e-safety at the beginning of the term; ensuring the children are able to keep themselves safe when online.

Each class is made up of mixed year groups and offer a welcoming and friendly environment. Its small numbers mean that each child is able to shine and friendships are often formed across different year groups and classes. Prospective parents who would like to visit the school and meet the Headteacher are welcome at any time. Just contact the school office to let us know what time you would like to come along.

SHOEBOXES 2016

A quick reminder that shoeboxes for the Link to Hope charity need to be returned to Sue Olanczuk by 31st October.

Leaflets in the church explain what you can include in the box and how it should be wrapped. Shoeboxes are sent to Romania, Bulgaria, Moldova and Ukraine, where they are distributed amongst the neediest communities.

Don't be left in the dark this Autumn, call 105

As we draw towards the shorter days and darker nights of Autumn back home in Suffolk, I am delighted to welcome the launch of a new easy-to-remember number for power cuts.

105 is a free of charge service, via land-line or mobile phone, which will put customers directly through to their local electricity network operator.

The service can be used for reporting or getting updates on power cuts, your concerns about over or underground electricity cables or sub-stations or - especially important - for reporting any welfare concerns for those being affected by power cuts or emergencies.

In a mostly rural constituency like ours, it is especially important that our communities look out for each other and take time to spare a thought for the more vulnerable and isolated in our neighbourhoods.

Many people, particularly the elderly and vulnerable, aren't sure who to call in the event of a power cut and may try to contact their energy supplier instead of the people who maintain the network.

I particularly welcome the introduction of 105 as a service as families and businesses in my constituency need to know where to go if they find themselves without power, either through severe weather or other disruption to service.

105 is a single, easy to remember number which prevents any confusion around who to call and most importantly, puts people in touch with the information they need when they need it.

Linked closely to the issue of electricity supply is the matter of competitive pricing and on 30 June I contributed to a key session of the Energy and Climate Change Select Committee when they considered the Competition and Market Authority's Market Investigation report, specifically looking at transparency and clarity on price comparison websites. I am keen to see greater transparency for consumers on this matter, ensuring that they genuinely can access the best deals and price plans for themselves.

Farming Calendar

At long last the rain came. Weeks of fine weather made for an easy harvest - I don't think we've ever finished so quickly - but has left rapeseed in the ground waiting weeks to germinate. To think last year the ground was too wet and cold to get the young plants up and twelve months on only a few random spots on the field could find enough moisture.

Come mid-October and the crazy season which is harvest, immediately followed by cultivations and drilling should be over. Just at this stressful time, there was more farmer-bashing from the recent State of Nature report. The headlines state farmers are to blame for wildlife decline but then the RSPB confirms that 80% of the damage is being done on the the 25% of land not managed by farmers.

Apparently 7.5 million volunteer hours per year are given to monitoring nature. Is it working or disturbing what they want to protect? When is enough ringing enough? And I'm waiting to see the people who fit GPS tracking to animals wearing comparably sized backpacks 24/7! Rant over before I get onto the subject of badgers v hedgehogs and bumble bees!

Framlingham Petty Sessions Friday, May 18, 1866

Henry Johnson, of Badingham, labourer, was fined 6d and costs 5s for allowing a donkey to stray on the highways, at Badingham on the 6th May.

Wm Smith, of Badingham, farmer, was fined 6d and 5s costs for allowing a horse to stray on the highways at Badingham on the 6th May.

Chaos on the streets of Badingham in 1866! I guess there was a Community Speedwatch way back then.

More recently, we did hear about a horse that had gone missing - the roads will be much more dangerous nowadays. We've recovered a wandering horse or dog several times over the years. Who should you call if you find an animal or one goes missing in the village? I know Sonja has a contacts tree for Neighbourhood Watch and Cllr Tim Barber for Emergency Planning. Is that the best way to spread the word?
